Mr. Barrett filed for the ballot Saturday and in doing so had back of his entry the plea of many friends in the Precinct who have been urging him for several weeks to enter the race. He was deeply grateful for the support tendered in advance of the primary election and believed that he had in the field a large number of workers for his success.

Mr. Barrett was born and reared in that section of the county and is the son of the late John Barrett who was also Commissioner for that precinct.

By experience and training Mr. Barrett feels that he is well qualified. (Turn to page 10)

NEGRO HELD AFTER ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY

Claude Moss, 19 year old negro employe of a negro barber shop, is in the county jail facing burglary charges following his attempt to rob the home of W. W. (Happy) Storey on Saturday night about 8:45.

Sheriff Max Kennedy arrested the negro late Monday afternoon and complete identification has been made.

Mrs. Storey was at home alone Saturday night. She was resting on a bed in the sleeping quarters of the home. Getting up she started to another section of the house. When she turned on a light she saw the negro standing in a doorway near the dining room. When she started to run from the house the negro caught her dress and threatened her if she screamed.

The negro then asked her if "Happy was home," and where he kept his (Turn to page 10)

ROBERT W. (BOB) PORTER

ROBERT PORTER RUNS FOR THE LEGISLATURE

W. Robert (Bob) Porter this week announced his candidacy to the Texas Legislature from the 64 district (Milam County,) and takes this means of soliciting the vote and support of the voters of Milam County. Mr. Porter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Porter of Milano, and the grandson of W. B. Porter of Gause.

Mr. Porter makes this race NOT from the standpoint of the typical politician who is concerned with perpetuation in office, political patronage, and such like, but as a candidate who is fitted for the office both by training and experience. Mr. Porter graduated from Rockdale in 1933, received a scholarship to Baylor University and attended that institution one year. He has been in the State University the past four years engaged in the study of government, economics, finance and law.

Mr. Porter has served as committee clerk in the Texas Legislature, where he has studied legislative procedure first hand, and is acquainted with the membership of the legislature. He (Turn to page 8)

RAYMOND BEARD FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Raymond Beard, widely known citizen and business man, is a candidate for the office of Representative to the House of the Texas Legislature from Milam county which is the 64th District. His candidacy is effective with the July 23rd Democratic primary in which he seeks the nomination.

Mr. Beard's entry into the race brings sharply to the fore a business career that has produced wide appeal among the voters and his friends who urge his mature years and general experience say that his candidacy represents a conservative business like bid for the office he seeks. In making his announcement Mr. Beard was happy to know that many friends over the county had pledged their vote and support.

Born and reared in Milam county his friends say that Mr. Beard offers the people the services of one who knows the needs of the county, its farm and business interests and although he has never offered for public office, he could by reason of his understanding of the current public problems, step into the place (Turn to page 2)

BeBee was arrested at Cedar Springs in Falls County within a few hours after he had sold the cattle in Waco. Deputy Sheriff Clarence McCall, assigned to the job early in the morning Thursday had made the arrest and located the cattle before late afternoon.

The cattle were stolen from three Maysfield owners, Roy Newton, O. Franklin, negro, and R. B. Mayes. (Turn to page 5)

Tom Hunter, the Iron Man of Texas politics who polled almost a half million votes in his last campaign for governor of Texas, will be in Cameron Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to address the voters.

The Hunter Campaign Committee in Cameron has arranged for seats and music and has advertised the rally extensively.

He makes his first major address since his indorsement by the Texas Old Age Pension Association and will have a definite plan for larger old age pension payments and to place on the roll many who are not now receiving payments.

Mr. Hunter will propound six questions which he challenges Attorney General William McCraw to answer when he addresses citizens of Cameron and surrounding communities in Cameron at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

McCraw is scheduled to fill a speaking date at the same spot at 8 o'clock that evening and Hunter invites him to meet "real issues" of the campaign.

Despite the fact that McCraw has the "last say" and "closing argument" at Cameron, Hunter is carrying battle to the attorney general and pleads with him to give satisfactory answers to the questions which Hunter will voice.

Among other phases of his economy platform Hunter will discuss the need for a fair trades aid to protect the independent business man, he will emphasize the seething demand for a return to home rule with elected officials carrying out the wishes of their constituents instead of appointed political agents enforcing the orders of their "bosses," and he will stress the records of McCraw and Ernest Thompson in doubling the expenditures of their respective state departments.

J. W. GUFFEY DIES IN MANHATTAN, KAN

The Herald is in receipt of a communication from Miss Jessie Guffey from Arkansas City, Kansas, telling of the recent death of her father J. W. Guffey, well known former resident here.

Mr. Guffey died in a Manhattan, Kansas hospital on Thursday afternoon June 16th at 3:30 o'clock.

John William Guffey was born in Kentucky on December 12, 1854. He became a member of the Methodist church while a very young man. On February 20, 1878 he was married to Miss Frances Jane Sartor at Melbourne, Arkansas, and to them nine children were born, only four of whom are now living: T. E. Guffey, El Paso; J. O. Guffey of Arkansas City, Kansas; Walter Guffey of Las Vegas, New Mexico and Miss Jessie Guffey. There are eight grand children and four great grand children and a sister Mrs. John Best of South Bend, Nebraska, who survive. (Turn to page 5)

"A. M. Camp From Georgia" Goes To Old Gettysburg

July 3rd, Asbury Murrell (A. M.) Camp, of San Gabriel, will celebrate his 90th birthday on the old battlefield at Gettysburg, as a guest of the U. S. War Department, in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of that famous Civil War Battle.

The Government has very graciously invited every living Civil War Veteran, both North and South, to be its guest from June 29th, to July 5th, for a last Reunion on the battle field of Gettysburg. The Government is furnishing transportation, eats, camp facilities and everything for these old veterans and an attendant for each. It is estimated that there are between 5,000 and 10,000 of the old boys who will be able to attend. Among these is A. M. Camp, of San Gabriel, grand father of Emory B. Camp, Milam County's able District Attorney.

Although in his 90th year, Mr. Camp is still hale and hearty. His body is frail, but his mind as active as in the days of yore when shouldered a gun, as a lad in Georgia, in defense of his native Southland.

Mr. Camp did not participate in the battle of Gettysburg, but had two brothers killed in that engagement. (Turn to page 9)

Camp

Mr. Camp had five brothers killed in the Civil War, and it is touching to see the fighting spirit of the old South revive when you can get him to talk of those horrible days. At first he is calm, apparently "telling a tale" that is told, but as he goes along, his eyes gleam, his hands begin to tremble, he strikes his cane, and when he tells of the killing of his brothers, his eyes become dim with tears, he shakes his head and ceases to talk. When composure is regained, and he is asked about Sherman's March Through Georgia, the whole man is changed. Instead of an old decrepit, reconstructed veteran, he becomes the typical old time rebel, full of hate towards those, whom as a lad of sixteen, he saw marching through his native county and State. Hell is in his eyes as he tells of the Federal soldiers dragging his mother from their old colonial home on the Camp farm in Georgia, of them slapping his sister, driving their live stock from the farm, and with axes cutting and destroying the piano and furniture, taking the feather beds into the yards and cutting them to pieces and letting the feathers fly with the winds, and of finally setting fire to the residence and barns, and leaving his mother and sisters with no where to stay, nothing to eat, and fearful of what would happen next. Of the women and children sleeping in the bottoms and cane brakes in hiding from the invaders. As he narrates and lives again these scenes, all of that something which makes a soldier fearless and the desire to kill, boils up in him, and he would fight again, and die, if he could. Then again, he will tell with love and respect of the kind and faithful services of the old family slaves during these turbulent times. Of how, the men slaves would slip out at night and get the chickens, or hidden bacon and other things and bring them to the "white women folks" in their hiding places, and how the old colored "mammies" would try to cook and care for "De white fokes" hiding in the woods and cane brakes, often going hungry that their "Missus" and the children might be fed.

Above are the feelings and impressions made on the writer recently in an interview with this old Patriot of the South.

Mr. Camp will entrain at Rockdale on the 27th, for his trip to Gettysburg, where with the other old Boys he will live over again the days of that fearful fratricide, and where will mingle their smiles and tears, and give their Rebel Yells as citizens of united peaceful nation.

This old soldier has resided at San Gabriel, Milam County, Texas, for the past fifty years, 48 years in the identical yard where he and his beloved wife are spending their declining years. He has always been a staunch Democrat, taking an active part in politics and all public affairs, but never seeking a public office.

Mrs. Camp is 89, and in good health for one of her age. Perhaps one of the best read women in Milam County. Although her eyesight is dimmer, she still keeps up with the times, and will converse with you about the "New Deal," "Social Security" etc, with acuteness. Truly she has been a wonderful and "successful woman. They have seven children, all living, the youngest past 45 years of age, the oldest near 70. A host of grand children and great grand children, and out of this multitude of offspring not a child or great grand child is dead, and only three grand children. Certainly God has been kind, and has guided this Old Mother of Israel in the true and proper channels of womanhood, and made her life a success by making her the mother of a wonderful bunch of strong, sensible, well developed, healthy descendants, and none of whom a mother or grand mother would be ashamed.

There are but few of the "Old South" remaining. May God continue to keep and preserve them, and may their seed multiply, and may their spirit, their patriotism and their ideals be emulated by the generations yet unborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Markham are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine eight pound boy that arrived at the Cameron hospital Saturday morning, June 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Clark, Jr., of Houston, spent Sunday here visiting their parents.

WM. McCRAW HERE FOR ADDRESS SATURDAY

Delegations from all parts of Milam county are expected to hear Attorney General William McCraw when he brings his campaign for governor here Saturday at 7:30 p. m. McCraw will speak at a rally planned for him by A. J. (Jack) Lewis and other Milam County McCraw supporters.

The attorney general, making a colorful personal campaign in all sections of the state, will drive 100 miles from Whitney, in Hill county, to Cameron for his speech Saturday night.

The colorful attorney general, whose record in that high state office has made him an outstanding candidate for governor, will probably enlarge upon his farm and ranch program in Cameron. He has suggested in his program that the actual farmers and ranchers of Texas be called in to council table to work out a sensible soil conservation program.

Mrs. J. R. Ethridge who makes her home here with her daughter, Mrs. Tom Vaughan, is spending some time with relatives and friends in Rosebud.

"28,880 flies may be hatched from one adult fly in 28 days, so swat the fly in his breeding place," Miss Dorothy Porter, County Home Demonstration Agent told the Bryant Station Club, meeting with Mrs. S. C. Wilson, hostess, on Thursday June 16.

"Screens of be effective must fit tightly," Miss Porter said further. "If unable to tack screens without leaving cracks, strips of canvas, as wide as needed, may be sewed to the edge of the wire. This, being pliable may be tacked closely over any uneven surfaces. The canvas may be water proofed with paint or hot paraffin. Cracks above or below doors may be closed by tacking strips of inner tube over them. These strips should be fastened to the door frame at the top and to the door itself at the bottom. Any wire coarser than 16 mesh will not keep out mosquitoes."

She concluded her talk with a reminder that flies are not only a nuisance but also a distinct menace to health, flies being direct carriers of typhoid, dysentery and infantile diarrhea and mosquitoes of malaria.

The hostess served refreshments to the 10 members and 2 visitors present. The next meeting will be on June 30 with Mrs. B. F. Talley hostess. The subject for discussion will be "Our Kitchen Goes Camping." Visitors are heartily welcome.

GERALD MANN SPEAKS IN CAMERON MONDAY

Pledging a constructive administration and the relentless prosecution of law breakers, Gerald C. Mann, Dallas Attorney and former secretary of state, brought his candidacy for attorney general to Cameron Monday, addressing a large crowd on the court house lawn.

As one constructive step, Mann proposed the establishment in the attorney general's office of a division to assist the legislature in drafting legislation. This can be done at no additional expense, he pointed out, and would reduce to a minimum inconsistencies ambiguities and conflicting provisions in legislative enactments.

"I promise a relentless fight on law violators," Mann said, "whether the law breaker be the largest corporation or most humble citizen. On the other hand I will not prosecute a man or interest to gain public favor nor shall I fail to prosecute for fear of losing it."

Mann scored all rackets and emphasized the fight he will make on political racketeers, who he said were "the influence peddling lawyer, the fixer, the schemer."

Mann invited a comparison of his record as a lawyer with that of his opponents and told of his past service to the state as an assistant attorney general, secretary of state and as Washington representative of the Washington planning board.

He told of co-ordinating federal and state relief projects at Washington to secure millions of dollars for the state and recounted his work as secretary of state in writing and securing passage of the present Texas Securities Act which has driven the fraudulent stock broker and racketeer from the state.

Bob Baker in Epic Western Friday and Saturday at Milam

A thrilling western story photographed against high Sierra Nevada mountains, Universal's "The Singing Outlaw" opens Friday at the Milam Theatre.

Bob Baker, the crooning cowboy, and Joan Barclay, beautiful Hollywood and New York actress, play the leading roles in this picture which was directed by Joseph H. Lewis, noted director of "Courage of the West."

The picture tells the age old story of the love of Miss Barclay for Baker under trying circumstances in the early days of the West.

No sooner has Barker made enough money in cattle ranching to buy larger properties and ask Miss Barclay to marry him, than he is mistaken for a rustler because of his presence, quite innocently, at the scene of a double murder. The finger of suspicion points squarely at him.

Baker and Miss Barclay are supported by Fuzzy Knight, the comedian, Roy Mason, Carl Stockdale and a host of other talented Hollywood actors and actresses.

The picture was filmed largely in the high Sierra Nevada mountains south and west of Sonora, Calif.

Mr. Frank A. Michalka attended the Laymen's retreat at La Porte last week end. He was accompanied by his wife and children.

"Kidnapped" Strong Picture of Feudal Days at Cameron Theatre Friday

"Kidnapped," the story which Robert Louis Stevenson is said to have considered his best, comes to Cameron spectacularly produced by Darryl F. Zanuck, with a cast of 5,000, and pretty much of the pick of 20th Century-Fox's "hit-making experts."

Unlike several other Stevenson stories, "Kidnapped" never before has appeared in either silent or sound films—something of a record. In its debut today, however, the stars, director and supporting cast appear to have been assembled with a lavish hand for the patrons of the Cameron Theatre.

Every person conversant with so much as high school English has thrilled to the adventure of "Kidnapped," so the picture is destined to meet a host of familiar friends.

It will be these "friends" who will remember that the story had little or no "feminine interest"—being chiefly the tale of the escapades of Alan Breck and David Balfour (portrayed on the screen by Warner Baxter and Freddie Bartholomew.)

Purists may try, therefore, to quarrel with Hollywood's introduction into the story of a Jean MacDonald, Highland lass who becomes enamored of Alan Breck. The role is portrayed by an astonishingly vivacious and beautiful screen discovery, Arleen Whelan.

It is interesting to note, then, that the motion picture people have no less a precedent than Stevenson himself, for allegedly "tampering" with the facts. He admits he tampered with the historical facts in writing the book.

"It is more honest to confess at once how little I am touched by the desire for accuracy. This ("Kidnapped") is no furniture for a scholars library, but a book . . ."

If Hollywood has taken liberties, it has only to paraphrase the author of the book from which it made its film:

"This is no furniture for a scholars library, but a triumphant piece of motion picture entertainment, lavishly done."

The stellar cast of "Kidnapped" includes C. Aubrey Smith, Reginald Owen, John Carradine, Nigel Bruce, Miles Mander, Ralph Forbes and H. B. Warner.

Alfred Werker directed the film, with Kenneth Macgowan associate producer (Sonya Levien, Eleanor Harris, Ernest Pacal and Edwin Blum wrote the screen play.

FARM CLUB NEWS

1937 Checks

Milam County is receiving some additional checks in small shipments. To date, 2009 checks have been received, totalling $214,386.44. Individual producers are sent notices the same day that their checks are received in this office.

Change of Address

Quite often we have producers who change their place of receiving mail and do not notify this office. All producers who change their address should immediately write the County Agent, giving both his old and his new address and stating the names of his old and new landlords.

1933 Pooled Option Cotton.

Producers who have in their possession "Participation Trust Certificates" issued in connection with the 1933 cotton plow-up are advised that forms are not available for the distribution of $1 per bale now due on such cotton. Watch the papers for news of the arrival of such forms.

1937 Loan and Unsold Cotton

The State Office has advised this office that it is their understanding that producers will receive subsidy (difference in average selling price and 12c, not to exceed 3c per pound) on the amount of cotton due under the Regulations, regardless of whether or not the cotton was sold, placed in the Government Loan, or was still in the hands of the producer. Application forms are not yet available for making such payments.

1937 Production

All producers should have on file in the County Agent's Office sales certificates or evidence of their 1937 cotton production, so that their farms will receive credit for such production when the 1938 "Normal Yield" is established for such farms.

Land Measuring

Land measuring will not get under way in Milam County this week. We expect to have a full crew of approximately 40 men measuring land by next week. Producers are asked to assist these men in every way possible. All farms in the county should be measured by picking time. We cannot kill time and get the job done.

Excess Cotton Acreage

The Washington Office has advised us that cotton can be destroyed before bolls are formed in more than the allotment was planted. This procedure will allow individual producers who planted more acres than they received in allotment to destroy the excess acres and draw full payment. State officials have advised that excess cotton must be destroyed before land is measured by the local Supervisors. Any other re-measurement must be done at the expense of the individual producer.

Effect of Excess Cotton Acreage on Benefit Payments

If a producer unintentionally overplants his 1938 cotton allotment, his Cotton Price Adjustment payment will not be affected.

His 1938 payments will be reduced by 5 cents per pound on the "Normal or Average Yield" times the excess acreage of cotton.

All cotton produced in excess of the cotton marketing quota will be taxed 2 cents per pound.

Marketing Quota Defined

The marketing quota for a farm is determined by multiplying the cotton acreage allotment by the "normal yield" of lint per acre established for the farm or by the average actual yield of lint per acre, whichever is the greater. If, for example, a farmer's cotton allotment is 10 acres and his "normal yield" of lint per acre is 100 pounds, then his marketing quota would be 1000 pounds of lint, provided he did not make more than his normal yield. If he made 200 pounds of lint per acre on his allotted acreage, then his marketing quota would be 2000 pounds.

Mrs. J. A. McKinney,
Jones Prairie Home Dem. Club,
Cameron, Texas, Rt. 2:

"How often have we settled down for a short period of solid comfort only to find ourselves annoyed by the melodious voice of the uninvited guest the fly or the mosquito. They are not only a source of great annoyance but as we know many diseases are transmitted by these small insects. Malaria, a disease which cost our country much in doctor bills and human suffering is transmitted by the female anopheles mosquito. Typhoid fever one of our most dreaded diseases, is often transmitted by the fly," said Miss Dorothy Porter, Milam County Home Demonstration Agent in discussing "Screening for Comfort" at the home of Mrs. S. M. Harrell, June 14.

Since the fly and mosquito are the source of so much discomfort and misery it behooves us to make war upon them by seeking out and destroying their breeding places.

A simple inexpensive fly trap made of 16 gauge screen wire baited with syrup of sweetened water placed near the kitchen door often proves very effective in combating the fly.

Visitors attending our meeting were Mesdames Carl Black and Don Slocumb of Cameron, Mrs. A. R. Tyson of Calvert, Mrs. S. Hearne of Edinburg, Mesdames Roy Harper and Miss Edna Mae Patske of Jones Prairie. There were 12 members present.

Our next meeting is with Mrs. L. W. Marek, June 28. The subject for discussion is "Our Kitchen Goes Camping." We are always delighted to have visitors.

Porter

ould not have to serve an apprenticeship at the expense of the taxpayers of this county.

Mr. Porter has made a detailed study of Texas laws and their administration, and as a result of this study, has become fired with a desire to serve the people of this county who like the people of the entire state, are suffering from the strain placed upon them by the inefficient administration of our laws.

As an example of this inefficiency, Mr. Porter points to the Old Age Pension law. Perhaps no other law so vitally concerns the people, yet the unfair way in which it has been administered, and the manner in which it has become a tool in the hands of unfair politicians has aroused the resentment of the people all over the state. Mr. Porter favors a pension for every person who has reached the age of 65. He believes that this pension should be uniform and administered by the commissioners court, and the county judge.

The time has come when something must be done to lighten our tax burden. Mr. Porter believes that the cutting down of governmental expenditures and the elimination of outworn bureaus is the best means of lightening this burden.

Another means would be the cutting down of our legislature to one house. Every day the legislature is in session $4,000 dollars come out of the pockets of the taxpayers of this state. With a one house legislature more could be accomplished with less expense in less time with more direct responsibility placed upon each legislator. Mr. Porter does now, however, under any condition favor a system that would result in unfair representation, but one in which the small towns would be equally represented with the cities.

Mr. Porter favors higher education, but he believes that more stress should be placed upon the strengthening of our common schools. He further believes that the recent crisis in the school administration, in which teachers and bus drivers were faced with the problem of carrying on without pay, or the closing down of the schools was entirely unnecessary.

Mr. Porter believes that the trusted representative of the people should give the same effort toward economy in his office as he would give to his own personal business. Mr. Porter pledges himself that as the representative of the people he will ever work to express the ideals of his people, and to do everything in his power to cushion the government from the violent and temporary whims of groups, and the pressure of organized minorities. He would endeavor to do this without oppression or injury to any. Mr. Porter hopes to see and talk with every citizen of Milam county, and assure them that their support will be rewarded with unselfish service.

To celebrate the 62nd birthday of Mr. Oliver Lagrone of the Summit Community, his many relatives gathered at his home Sunday, June 19, 1938. His sisters, his daughters and sons with their families came and brought boxes of food to add to the many viands prepared by his daughters and splendid barbecued meat the host himself prepared, which was served at a long table decorated with seasonal flowers on the front porch of the Lagrone home. A large birthday cake with 62 candles centered the table. Mr.

Lagrone made an interesting talk to the assembly, giving history of the coming to Texas of his parents, and of their building and occupancy of the sturdy log section of his present home until their passing away. Oliver Lagrone was born there 62 years ago, a descendant of G. D. Lagrone, who came to America, September 27, 1727, the progenitor of all Lagrones now living in America. The sons of Mr. Lagrone furnished old time music on violin and guitar, all members of the family have musical talent. This sumptuous and bounteous dinner is an event affair occurring on the natal day of the host who was his mother's youngest son and she began the series of dinners in his honor when he was ten years of age. Among those present from Cameron were a sister of Mr. Lagrone's, Mrs. Verge Woolley, Miss Annie Woolley, Judge and Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Saturday evening, June 18th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dierr, when their daughter, Miss Helen Dierr, became the bride of Robert Foster of San Antonio, with the Rev. J. Coy Williams, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating, reading the impressive ring ceremony. Pretty summer floral decorations added beauty to the reception rooms. Mrs. Wilbur Du Bois gave the wedding music and Billie Triggs sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." The bride was beautifully dressed in a late model of Navy Tripple Sheer with rust accessories, and carried a corsage of white carnations, showered with narrow white satin ribbons. She was reared in Cameron, graduated from Yoe High School and was favorite in social circles, and after graduating from school has been associated in the City Tax Assessor and Collectors office for several years. She is deservedly popular with a large circle of friends. The bride groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster of Rockdale, and for some time has been a pharmacist in San Antonio, where they will make their home. Misses Nelta Dierr, sister of the bride and Grace Markham presided at the punch bowl and served cake and punch after the ceremony. Out of town guests were: Mrs. Crawford and family of Corpus Christi, Mr. and B. C. Hill of Fort Worth, Mrs. Walter Holcomb and son of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Williams of Bryan; Mrs. Tommie Wright and son of Breckenridge and Mrs. Earl Leath of Rockdale.

Miss Sidney Hause of Hoyte was hostess on last Friday to the 4H club at her country home, with the help of her mother, Mrs. Eugene Hause. A yellow and white color scheme was used for the entertainment and the floral adornments were of zina and fern. The hostess served cherrie ice cream and angel squares from large traps centered with bowls of zinas. Guests other than members of the club were: Miss Ada Mae Hinman County health nurse, Mrs. W. A. Bonds and Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp all of Cameron.

son in law, Dr. Mennis from the Baptist Medical College of Dallas. Dr. Mennis not only received his diploma for dentistry, but received a medal and diploma for special work in study on children dental conditions. He will serve his intern in and render an immediate and worthwhile service.

Beard

Mr. Beard's candidacy was believed to effect wide general appeal among the farmers and stockmen. For years he has been closely associated with these interests, first as representative of agencies bolstering and serving farm credits and of late with the Bryan Production Loan Association lending more than $400,000 to farmers for production of crops. Friends point out that Mr. Beard handled this great volume of business and without loss to the Association or to anyone. Farmers generally will appreciate the service he has rendered. In this service Mr. Beard was able to demonstrate his business ability and judgment and friends point out that it is upon a life filled with experiences of this kind that his candidacy finds its best appeal in this day of economic problems.

In announcing his candidacy Mr. Beard gave a general outline of service he hopes to render. He was outspoken for a better administration of the State's fiscal affairs. He commented that men who offer for representative invariably announce for economy. This he said, has become a common expression in campaigns and means nothing to the average voter. What he proposes is to vote for economy on each and every opportunity presented.

"A vote for me is a vote for lower costs in the state government. I know how the farmer and the merchant, the salaried and small earners get their money. I know that the burdens of the government are too heavy. I know that campaign promises are worthless unless they are backed up by votes in the legislature. It is my pledge to the people that on every vote to be taken my vote will be cast for economy. I mean by this that every measure carrying an appropriation will be scaled down by my vote and that I will not be subject at any time to the influence of lobbyists or those who so often disregard the interests of the common people.

"Texas tax payers cannot hope to be relieved of burdens of government by the mere scaling of a few minor appropriation bills. What we must do is to cut millions off the annual appropriations and bring substantial relief. If you wish this done, vote for me because I give you no empty pledge. My whole life has demonstrated that in business I have practiced and know the value of economy. I believe that the greatest menace to free government today is the continued piling up of costs of government. If this trend is not stopped the public debt will soon confiscate our property values and we will have nothing left with which to pay our obligations."

In making his principal platform declaration that of Economy Mr. Beard believes he is offering the people a substantial program. He realizes that money is needed for state and local purposes and will always be found sympathetic with reasonable progress.

Regarding the State Old Age Pension Amendment, Mr. Beard said that he favors the payment of the pension to the aged people of Texas in such amounts as revenues make possible and in the future he hopes to see all the aged people of deserving circumstance getting their just share of the benefits of the Old Age Pension. There are many not now on the rolls that should be on and it will be his purpose to see that all are justly treated.

Mr. Beard's life has been spent in Milam county. During the years he has been active, farming and livestock have claimed his major attention. His business experience has been of such nature that he knows the needs of the people of Milam county and pledges them that if he is elected they will have an everyday champion of their interests.

Friends now actively supporting Mr. Beard's candidacy are impressed with his record of economy, his judgment as a business man and farmer, and declare that his candidacy meets a special need at this time for representation in the Texas Legislature.

In making this campaign Mr. Beard hopes to see and talk with each voter in the county, but if the limited time does not permit a thorough canvas, he takes this method of extending to one and all a cordial invitation to lend their support to his

IF TAXES WERE PAID WITH WHEAT

It would have taken 2,086,257 bushels* to pay Lone Star Gas System's 1937 tax bill

*Based on average 1937 Price of $1.00 per Bushel

THIS is a lot of wheat—nearly half of the entire 1935 crop harvested in the 58 Texas counties in which Lone Star Gas System operates. To move these 2,086,257 bushels to the tax collector's office to pay the 54 different kinds of city, county, district, state and federal taxes would require 1,780 freight cars forming a train 13.8 miles long! So you see taxes are a very great factor in our operating expenses. Last year they amounted to 23.3% of operating and maintenance costs!

Taxes charged against this system have been increased 42% during the last four years and our rates are not up proportionately. This has created difficult conditions for us in maintaining our record of dependability when less and less of your gas dollar has been left to pay for the essentials of service.

In spite of greatly increased taxes and regulatory expenses Lone Star Gas Service still remains the cheapest item on your household budget. One cent's worth of gas still operates a gas refrigerator from 8 to 10 hours or cooks a good dinner for three people.

Present for 12 Years

CLARA BASKIN

When graduation exercises were held in Cameron for the Seniors of 1938, Miss Clara Baskin, a member of the class, was given a certificate of merit from the school because she had not been absent from school for 12 years. This period of time spans her entire school time from Kindergarten to a graduate in the Senior Class. In addition to the certificate Miss Baskin was presented a fountain pen by the Cameron School Board through the President, J. C. Martin. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Baskin of Cameron and plans to go to college this fall.

Egg Within Egg Is Freak Find at Will Kuzel Farm

Will Kuzel of Corinth near Buckholts told a story of interest here Saturday, regarding an egg taken from a nest on his farm.

In The Herald museum an egg produced on this farm is on display. The recent discovery was a two in one egg. Mr. Kuzel said that when he first found the egg he thought it was a common two yolk egg but when the egg was broken for use a complete egg with shell was found inside the big egg. This just about tops all freak egg finds in this section.

We wish to extend our thanks to our friends and neighbors for the kindness shown us at the death of our husband and father. Especially do we want to thank those who sent flowers.

fied for the place. The business of the county is large enough to demand the best business talent. Mr. Barrett knows road conditions in the Precinct and is fully conversant with the needs of the people. He proposes that if elected he will institute many beneficial moves to bring about a better distribution of the tax money and will be the Commissioner for all the people at all times.

In making his campaign Mr. Barrett plans nothing more nor less than a statement of his qualifications. He plans an active canvas but knows that it is necessary that his friends aid him in all parts of the district in the canvas. Announcing at a late date he may not be able to see each one personally and takes this method of asking for the vote and support of all the people.

Mr. Barrett pledges the people a business like, economical administration without extravagance or favoritism. He will put back into the localities the money spent in Taxes and based upon his experience will be able to give efficient service.

Negro

money? Holding his right hand in the pocket of his trousers the negro frightened Mrs. Storey with a gun gesture and began ransacking drawers to dressers and cabinets. In a few moments he was frightened and turned off the light and went out the back door.

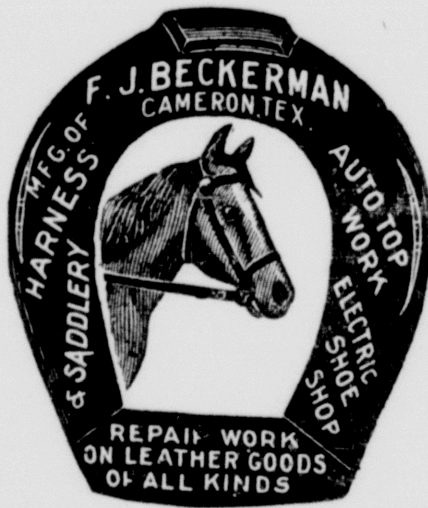

Mrs. Storey ran to a neighbor's home and gave the alarm. The negro escaped.

On Monday afternoon at 5:30 Mrs. Storey was at the home of a neighbor and on looking out the window saw a negro she believed to be the same man who entered her home. He was walking slowly by her home and looking in the windows. She called Sheriff Kennedy who went to the Storey home and with Mrs. Storey started in search for the negro. They found him at the home of his aunt in a negro quarter north of the city and there identified him, the clothes he wore on the night he entered the home.

Sheriff Kennedy took the negro back to the Storey home and re-enacted the scenes of Saturday night and the negro was identified.

Mr. Storey works with a bottling company here and the negro was believed to have anticipated finding money from the day's run in the Storey home.

Burglary charges have been filed and Sheriff Kennedy said the negro is being held and no attempt has been made to get bond for him.

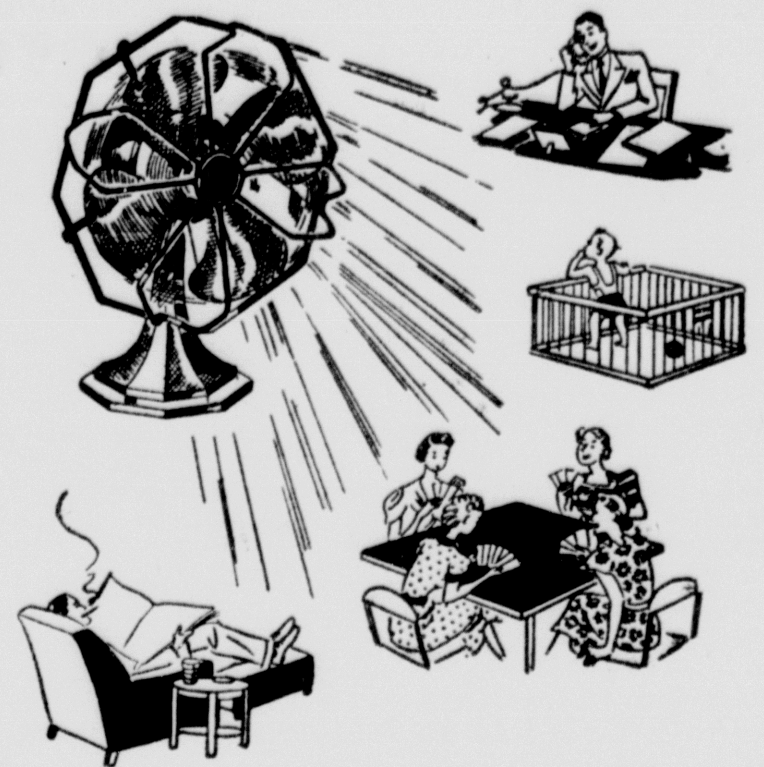

The Cameron Fire Boys returned last week from Amarillo where the State Annual Convention was held.
